Notes on Cultural Resource Management in the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service

FWS Regional News:

Headquarters—The ‘new’ USFWS Cultural Resources Program website is on-line! The site offers information on the many facets of the program at USFWS as well as past issues of the ever popular Historical Happenings. Visit the site at <http://historicpreservation.fws.gov> and contact Eugene Marino with comments.

Region 1—The Cathlapotle plankhouse is complete and open for visitors. The structure, located on Ridgefield National Wildlife Refuge, involved many volunteers over the course of several years. The structure will serve as the focal point of the Refuge’s educational program. Contact Virginia Parks for more information.

Region 4—Archaeologists working at Yauhannah Bluff have found Native American as well as Colonial artifacts at a site that will eventually become the Headquarters of the Waccamaw National Wildlife Refuge. For more information contact Rick Kanaski.

Region 4—Fish Hatchery 2 site, located within the boundaries of the Natchitoches National Fish Hatchery has been nominated to the National Register of Historic Places. The site contains abundant information relevant to addressing important research questions regarding regional cultural community and prehistoric social organization and subsistence patterns. For more information contact Rick Kanaski.

Region 7—Historic cabins now available to visitors and scholars. A dozen historic cabins at Kenai NWR were recently made available as lodging after they had been examined, photographed, and documented by archaeologists who will study their importance to the area. See <http://news.fws.gov/tipsheet/2005-05-06-tipsheet.pdf> for more information.

NPS—Archeology Program launches new webpages. The Archeology Program is pleased to announce “The Public Benefits of Archeology” <http://www.cr.nps.gov/aad/PUBLIC/INDEX.HTM>, which offers different segments of the public a unique perspective on their professions and daily lives. This webpage offers a start to educators, museum professionals, community planners, forensic specialists, historians, and ecologists who might not ordinarily think about archeology as a resource.

Through narrative scenarios, case studies, and additional reading, visitors to the webpage can learn about ways that archeology can benefit them.

The Service is increasing its participation in the National Trails System, the Trails for All Americans program, and promoting our part in the CDC initiative, Trails for Health. As part of that effort we are trying to increase the visibility of the Service in the National Trails System. The National Trails System has three components: National Scenic Trails, such as the Appalachian Trail; National Historic Trails, such as the Trail of Tears; and National Recreation Trails, unique local or regional trails. National Scenic and Historic Trails are congressionally designated, National Recreation Trails are designated by the Secretaries of Agriculture and Interior.

There are 15 National Historic Trails in the NTS. Seven of them have NWRs or NFHs along them or near them. The Service is interested in certifying refuges and hatcheries along NHTs. Certification is a partnership that helps landowners protect and preserve their historic trail properties, and share them with others. Nathan Caldwell, the newest addition to the WO transportation staff, will be working with interested regions and field stations on the certification process. For more information and a list of the NHTs and NWRs or NFHs associated with them, contact Nathan by email or at phone (703) 358-2205.
